The Challenge

The relentless speed of IT development has left many businesses struggling to keep pace with the latest technologies. As IT budgets become stretched and the demands for new and more diverse service grow fire-fighting overcomes long-term planning. This cycle becomes even more pronounced during times of economic downturn, but, ironically, this is precisely the time when forward planning is most important.

The Solution

adept4 professional services can assist your organisation in aligning its IT services to the overall aims of the business. We offer solutions for the real world, with no bias towards any particular technology, but an expert understanding of each component and its interoperability within the overall environment. adept4 consultants combine technology skills with a thorough understanding of business processes.

If you're looking for advice on how your IT can help drive your business forward, we can help.

We offer a range of IT consultancy services including:

- email migration
- system upgrades
- network audits
- infrastructure consolidation
- security compliance
- data storage and recovery
- server virtualization
- system architecture

All our technical team is fully ITIL qualified and possess a wide range of in-depth technical skills. This is supported by our extensive training and development programme that ensures adept4 consultants are equipped with the latest skills and resources.

Examples of projects undertaken recently by our consultants include:

- Pell & Bales Transition and Transformation
